September Newsletter

September is here! Hope you all had a wonderful summer. Now that our school year is here just a few reminders: Please make sure that your child is dressed for the weather, which can still be quite warm. Make sure they have changes of clothes in their cubbies, all labeled with their names.

*Reminder... Kids Kingdom will be closed Monday, Labor Day.

Grandparents Day will be celebrated here at Kids Kingdom. This is a special day where grandparents are invited to come spend the morning with their grandchildren. We will be posting the date soon.

This month we will be working on the color red and the shape circle. Our curriculum is built around the RIELDS, helping us to formulate our goals. Our math goal will be classification and patterning. Our science goal will be understanding science concepts. Our literacy/language goal will be working on comprehension and literacy experiences. Our physical health goal will be participating in structured and unstructured play. Our creative arts goal will be to experiment with different materials and movements. Our social/emotional goal will be forming relationships with others. Our social studies goal will be to understand time and place. Our cognitive goal will be to work on memory and working memory.

The first week we will celebrate Grandparents! We will talk about the role they play in our lives and make some special gifts for them. We will read books about grandparents and encourage the children to read along with us.

The second week is All about Me! We will talk about similarities and differences in each child and the things that make us all unique and how we respect diversity. We are asking our families to please send family photos that we will be adding to our family tree.

The third week and fourth week we will talk about Fall and Apples. We will explore leaves, apples and all the things that happen in the Fall. We will be doing fun activities that revolve around the theme. We will transform our dramatic play area into a supermarket where the children can shop for food and of course, apples!!
